PLEAS FOR WORK LITTER FLOOR OF ROOM OF SUICIDE

Gas in House on D Street Northwest.

Discouraged by unemployment, Wiliam P. Miller, sixty years old, was found dead today in a gas-filled room at 207 D street northwest.

There were letters lying about the police usually find in suicide cases. They were communications indicating that the aged man had vainly answered many employment advertisements, and was preparing to send out

Policeman Montgomery of the Sixth precinct, who was the first to arrive, found that the aged man had tightly closed the windows to his room. The body, he reported, had a towel pinned tightly about the throat.

The occupants of the D street house know little about the dead man. The police today are examining his effects in the hope of finding some clue to his relatives. Letters found among his things indicate that he formerly liv-ed in Hagerstown, Md.

Aceptances from and Mrs. Fred M. Hall, aged twentyfour and twenty-one, respectively, who were married less than two months ago, surrendered to Captain Smith at police surrendered less than two months ago, surrendered to Captain Smith at police headquarters early today, with the explanation that they are wanted in Grand Rapids, Mich., to answer to charges of forgery and larceny.

With tears in his eyes, the young husband told Captain Smith that he and his wife fled from Grand Rapids last Saturday after he had forged a check for $9 on his employer, and his wife fled from Grand Rapids last Saturday after he had forged a check for $9 on his employer, and his wife had stolen a lot of silverware from the restaurant where she was employed. Both were locked up, charged with being fugitives from justice, and held pending word from Grand Rapids.

Hall exhibited to the local officers a marriage certificate, showing that he and his wife were married in Grand Rapids February 25. He said that for several weeks he had been employed as a waiter and his wife as a waiters in the Destadt restaurant in that city before they stole the money and fied to Toledo.

The first few days we were in Toledo.

"The first few days we were in To-ledo," said Hall, "we both searched in vain for employment and every minute ve were on the streets we were in fear we were on the streets we were in fear of being arrested. As our money ran low we became despondent. We feit that our lives were ruined, and, with that prospect ahead of us, we made up our minds to commit suicide. We went to a drug store, where I spent 50 cents, the last money we had, for a bottle of chloroform. We returned to our room, and, after kissing each other, good-by, we each drank some of the stuff, first saturating two handkerchiefs, which we put over our faces. When I came to put over our faces When I came to my wife was in a stupor, but she re-vived when I threw some water in her face. We were both awfully sick from the chloroform, but we are glad our at-tempt at suicide failed.
